The performance, lifetime, and safety of electric vehicle batteries are strongly dependent on their temperature. Consequently, effective and energy-saving battery cooling systems are required. This study proposes a secondary-loop liquid pre-cooling system which extracts heat energy from the battery and uses a fin-and-tube heat exchanger to dissipate this ...

Because Moldova lacks energy resources, it is almost fully dependent on imports of fossil fuels and electricity. Since October 2021, gas prices have increased significantly in Moldova due to both the latest developments on the regional energy markets caused by the post-pandemic economy recovery and the war in Ukraine (the purchasing gas price increased from 265 ...

This target was not met. However, the Energy Community has also started to consider the implementation of a revised Renewable Energy Directive (RED II) on the promotion of energy from renewable sources. If fully transposed into Moldovan law, this would set a target of 9% of renewable sources in the transport sector in Moldova by 2030.

It also includes non-energy uses of energy products, such as fossil fuels used to make chemicals. Some of the energy found in primary sources is lost when converting them to useable final products, especially electricity. As a result, the breakdown of final consumption can look very different from that of the primary energy supply (TES).
