The main electricity supplier in South Africa has been implementing rolling power cuts, called load shedding, to various areas of the country. This is due to a lack of infrastructure to handle the local demand. The load shedding in South Africa has been growing steadily, and it can last for up to eight hours a day. Since this supplier also provides electricity to TWR's office and staff ...

Explore the solar photovoltaic (PV) potential across 2 locations in Eswatini, from Mbabane to Manzini. We have utilized empirical solar and meteorological data obtained from NASA's POWER API to determine solar PV potential and identify the optimal panel tilt angles for these locations.

But scientists only know if solar maximum has happened six months after the event, because they use six months of data analysing the intensity and frequency of sun spots. Current predictions suggest we could reach solar maximum at the end of 2024 or early 2025. For More News And Analysis About Eswatini Follow Africa-Press
